

Will Give $500 to Sick of Keytesville and Vicinity

Indiana Scientist Who Originated
the Now Famous "Home Treatment" Offers $1.00 Treatment
Free to Sick and Ailing.

In order that every reader of the Chariton Courier who needs treatment may have an opportunity to test this celebrated medicine, the now famous Indiana scientist has come to the front with an offer to give absolutely free a full size $1.00 package to five hundred persons to prove the wonderful claims which have been made for it. In making this offer the scientist said: "I know that there are many people who have been suffering for years with some chronic disease and many of them have spent large sums of money seeking a cure. I know that these people hesitate about investing money in medicine because they have despaired of ever getting well. Thousands have told me that story and many thousands of the same people have told me afterwards that my treatment had cured them after doctors and everything else had failed. I want to show these despairing people that all the newspaper talk about my treatment is absolutely true. I want to prove to a limited number—no matter what the disease, no matter how long they may have suffered, no matter how blue and discouraged—that my treatment really and actually does accomplish the wonderful results that have been reported."

People who suffer from Rheumatism, Kidney Trouble, Stomach Trouble, Liver or Bowel Disorders, Catarrh, Bronchitis, Asthma, Chronic Coughs, Weak Lungs, Lumbago, Piles, Urinary Disorders, Female Weaknesses of any kind, the weak, worn out, broken down and despondent will be delighted at the effect of a few doses. This wonderful treatment creates a fine appetite and helps the digestive organs to carry on their functions as they should. It strengthens the kidneys, too, and drives rheumatism poisons from the blood as if by magic. That is why people who try it become so enthusiastic.

Any reader of the Chariton Courier who will try this extraordinary medicine that has created so much excitement by its cures can obtain absolutely free a full $1.00 treatment by simply filling in the coupon below or writing a letter describing their case in their own words, if they prefer, and mailing it today to James W. Kidd, Fort Wayne, Indiana. No money need be sent and no charge of any kind will be made.

As this offer is limited, you should write at once, in order to be sure to receive your free treatment.

"Typhoid pneumonia had left me with a dreadful cough," she writes. "Sometimes I had such coughing spells I thought I would die. ### The Hobo's Rearing

A kind-hearted old lady in a Westchester town was summoned to her rear door not long ago by the knocking of a tramp who desired food. The good soul hastened to give the man something to eat, and, as he fed, gazed upon him with an expression of the utmost commiseration. "Oh, that you should have allowed yourself to sink into such a state!" she murmured. "Man man! Think of your poor mother!" "Excuse me, mum," said the hobo, unmoved, "but I can't get excited about that phase of my career. You see, lady, I was raised in an incubator."—New York Press.

There never was a time when people appreciated the real merits of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy more than now. This is shown by the increase in sales and voluntary testimonials from persons who have been cured by it. If you or your children are troubled with a cough or cold give it a trial and become acquainted with its good qualities. For sale by all druggists.

Neighbors Will Play Our Fiddle
J. Frank Neighbors accepts immortal fame and The Republic's prize fiddle in a graceful and dignified manner comporting with his responsibility.

We believe he will fulfill all of the demands that reputation exacts. To be distinguished throughout the length and breadth of Christendom as the benefactor who gave mankind the houn' dawg song is no sinecure. The notorious possession, indeed, of a fiddle itself makes the strongest demands upon the individual. Yet see how J. Frank Neighbors rises to a great occasion.

He announces to the world that he will immediately set himself to master the houn' song to the end that he may play it before the assembled nation on the White House steps upon Champ Clark's ascension to the presidency. We felicitate the nation upon J. Frank Neighbors, and ourselves upon the happy discovering of his genius to a waiting universe in the hour of its need.

Our own responsibility for Neighbors we may now safely end with a word of instruction as to how he must play the tune. Let him sit at our feet and carefully note that the stanza begins on the open third string with about five short yelp-like notes and thereafter develops a strong kinship with "Turkey in the Straw." When he comes to the chorus he should slide down the second string with his third finger to draw out of the catgut the very soul of canine anguish and fiddle like the mischief with a slight syncopation of his boot-heel on the floor—preferably a puncheon floor.

With this starting advice we abandon him to his fate and his fame, confident of the verdict of the ages.—St. Louis Republic.

Dictograph Reveals Crime

The dictograph, the sensitive instrument which has lent itself so marvelously to the purpose of securing evidence of crime, is described in an illustrated article in the April Popular Mechanics Magazine. The instrument comprises a most sensitive transmitter, a receiver, a small battery and as much wire as necessary. The entire outfit can be held in one hand and not cover all the fingers. The transmitter can be placed anywhere in the room where the person whose evidence is desired will be most likely to talk.

In the Ohio bribery cases it was put under a sofa in a hotel room. In San Francisco it was placed beneath the bed in a cell of the city jail. At Trento, Canada, where it was used in a hotel, it was placed under papers. It might be hung on the wall beneath a picture or a calendar, an ordinary pin being strong enough to hold it in place.

Silk covered wire can be run from the transmitter to whatever room the operator desires, and when connected, the person holding the receiver to his ear hears distinctly every word uttered in the room where the transmitter has been placed. Stenographers, if so equipped, can make a verbatim report of
